Noteworthy Gifts

1946-2006
60 Years of Education

Alumni Band Reunion
Grand Gesture

Announcement:

John Beckwith at 80

National Jazz Awards
A former professor of the subject at the University of Oxford, the focus of the current work is on the relationship between the two disciplines.

The relationship between mathematics and computer science has been a topic of interest for many years. This work aims to explore the potential for collaboration between the two fields.

This project is a joint effort between the Department of Mathematics and the Computer Science Department.

The project is funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The purpose of the grant is to support research in the area of collaborative mathematics.

The researchers plan to publish their findings in the near future.

For more information, please contact Professor John Doe at john.doe@oxford.edu.